Pass Me Not

I beckon pass me not —
But bid thee stop a while;
Share with me a season.
Of our dreams and desires
Let us speak and share life —
That today 'we' might know
And call each other friend.

— Mike Gibson

A Tribute to R. Leonard Carroll

CLEVELAND, TENNESSEE—1/27/72—Church of God General Overseer, R. Leonard Carroll is dead. Death came to the 51-year-old chief of America's oldest Pentecostal denomination at 10:20 p.m., January 26, 1972, following a massive heart attack.

That was how the press release began that announced to the world outside the church that its head was dead—it announced what most of the church already knew—many had been awakened even in distant areas by hurried phone calls early in the pre-dawn hours of 1/27/72.

I learned of his death after arriving at class the next morning to find the professor as I entered talking in muffled tones of the death of his colleague, Dr. Carroll. Being young in the church I only began to feel the loss to the leadership of the denomination when Dr. Don Aultman was unable to continue with the announced lecture.

R. Leonard Carroll was born October 4, 1920, in Franklin County Georgia. He was ordained in the church in 1946, received a B.A. from Furman University and an M.S. and Ed.D. from the University of Tennessee. When he died this year, he, as a local paper editorialized, "left Cleveland and this world physically, but the results of his life and work remain indelibly stamped in human hearts and church philosophy. Who could ask for a better memorial."

Charles W. Conn Litt. D., President

Showing a genuine interest in students has been a salient feature of Dr. Conn's administration. During his second term as president of Lee College, he has promoted reforms which are vital to the school's continued success. He exhibits a concern for academic excellence and integrity in spiritual culture. Dr. Conn's feelings about Lee College are summed up in this statement: "Lee is completely contemporary, aware of our exciting times, alive with the opportunities of today. It is a school of action and opportunity."

DONALD S. AULTMAN, B.A., Ed.D.
Vice-President and Dean of the College

Dr. Don Aultman serves the college in the capacity of Vice-President and Dean of the College with what seems a genuine concern for the needs of the student. His career at Lee indicates his desire to stay close to the mainstream of student life.

An Associate Professor of Psychology as well, Dr. Aultman functions in a tri-sided role, also remaining close to the church as a minister. As vice-president he has pioneered the academic growth of the institution: working on programs leading to accreditation by the Southern Association, increased course offerings, and the 4-1-4 program to be instituted next year.

Campus Life

The First Long Day Begins

Students unpack after a long days trip.

Van Watkins meets Karen Hobgood and decides baseball isn't that important.

Serratia wonders what the first year will bring her.

Last day of relaxation for Jerry McClain before those long days begin.

Mitch Maloney gives Sharon Henry a word of advice on her first day.

After the confusion of registration and the long hours of frustration that comes with unpacking there is a settling down . . . a beginning of a routine. Life is really beginning for the new year.

New friends are made. Old friends get reacquainted. The studying begins. The laughter and tears all come and go.

Sleeping, waking up, getting dressed, drinking coffee are the small things and can be as memorable as the large things.

Our day begins with a bed to make, a face to wash and a dress to iron.

Dr. Fleming and her students spend the morning in lab.

Few students make it to breakfast.

Day Starts at 7:00 a. m.

Smile! Going to class isn't that bad.

The class is more enjoyable than the atmosphere.

After chapel everyone heads for the post office.

Waiting in the lunch line is a good time for studying or rapping.

The day goes on. The relaxation of the cafeteria and stimulation of the classroom has made everyone more alert. There are more people seen and more smiles.

A quick stop in the canteen to see what's going on.

Crowds Between the Classes

Music students enjoy a short tune.

Students chat about the days events.

A stop in the TV room for relaxation between classes.

Girl talk.

Betty Mudd rehearses before her lesson.

Times To Be Alone

Bob Laughlin, can you study in there?

Although in crowds you find much entertainment, relaxation and friendships, there are times everyone wants to be alone. A time to meditate on the past or the future . . . a time to daydream . . . a time to get those important things done. . . .

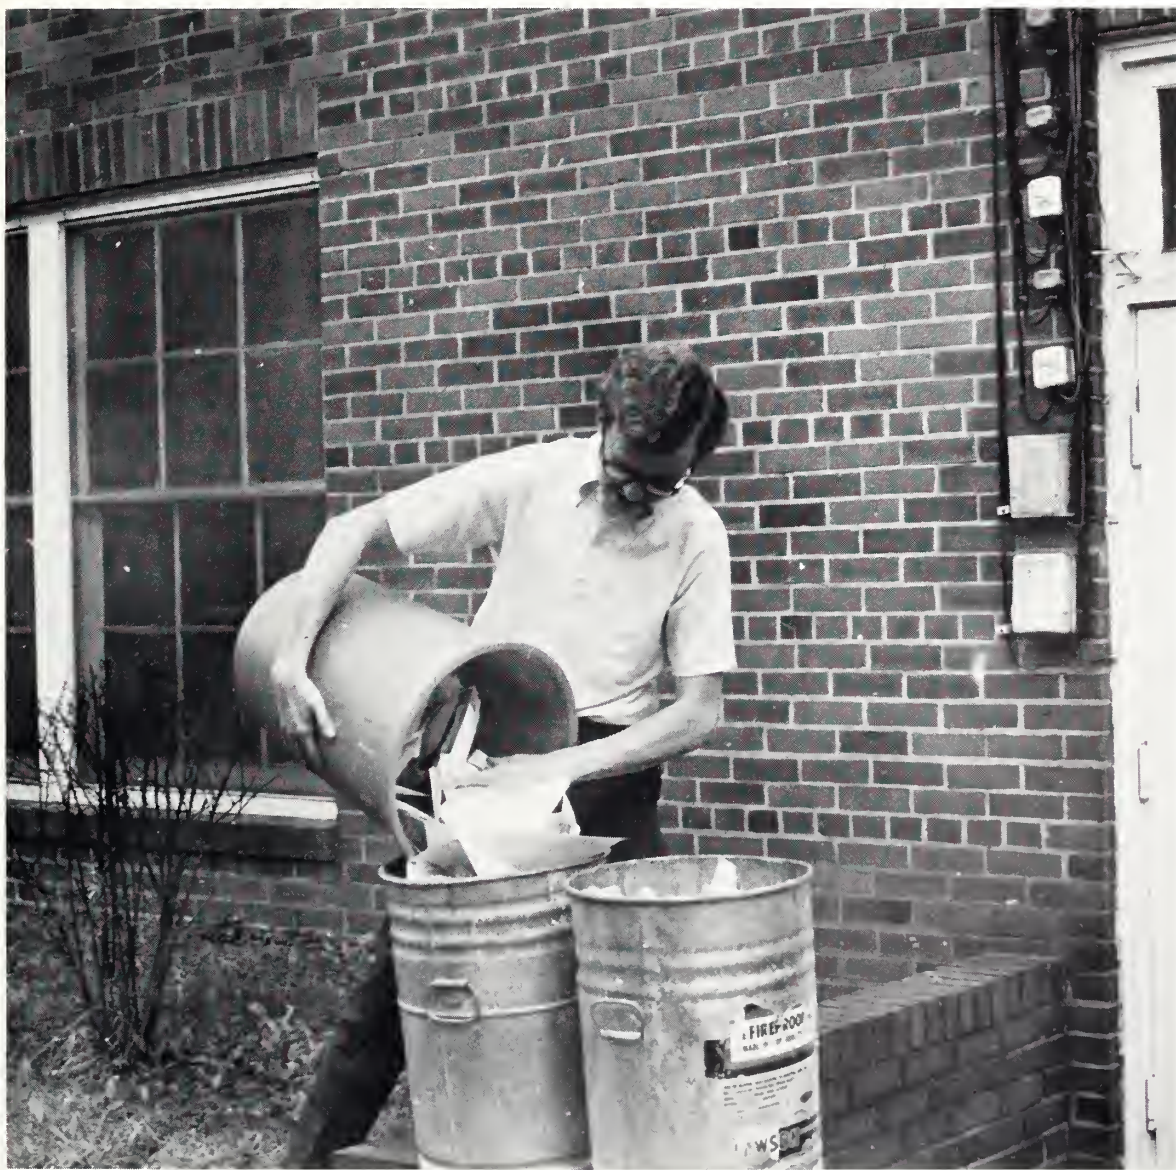

Larry Rushing lost to the world.

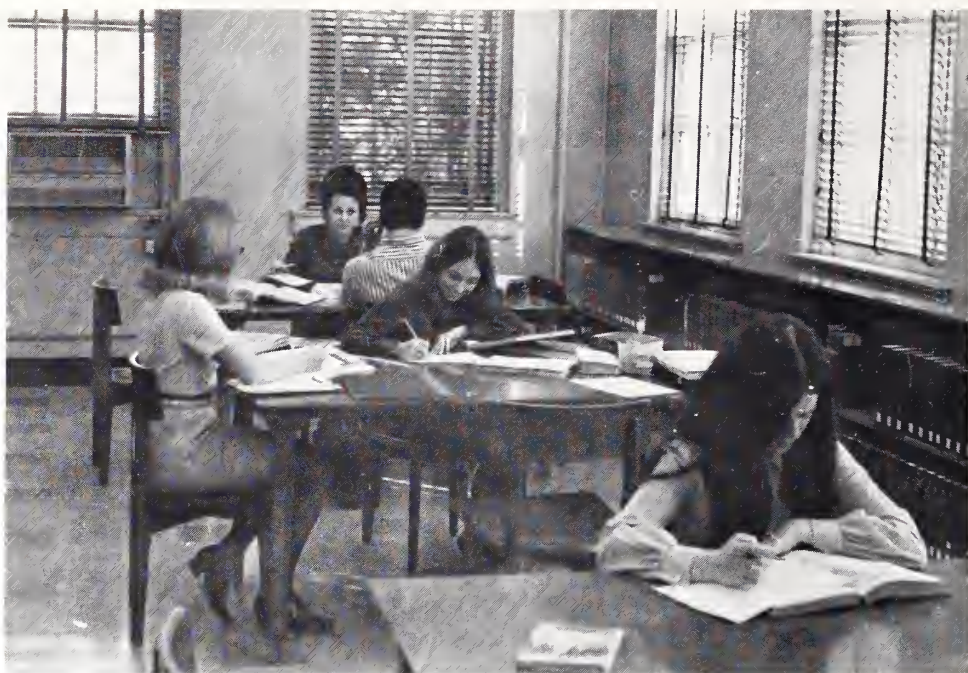

Daphne Patton still has a smile.

Kathy Reid points out an interesting article.

It's about time Jim empties his trash.

The library—a popular scene.

The Day Has Many Faces

June Mailey enjoys a passing conversation.

Judy Winckowski stop talking so much.

Ken Shelton waits for his phone call.

Dana and Greg the library is the other way.

Play Time

Those times of relaxation must have vigorous exercise and must be a release of tensions and problems of the day.

Someone locked themselves out.

Various Activities

Glen McClendon—can you really think better that way?

Virgil and Leroy are relaxing in the lobby.

As the Day Ends...

Elaine Moore and David Tidwell relate the days' events.

Look what Rooster found in his pocket.

At the end of the day everyone finds something they want to do, need to do or have to do. There's finding that certain someone or a test to prepare for. A time of studying or a time of meditation. At any rate, "Life is but a day at most."

Two's company . . .

A time for us.

Annual Christmas Party

Santa and his reindeer visit Lee College.

Delta Zeta Tau performed its annual Christmas party for the campus and for little brothers and sisters. The highlight of the evening was the portrayal of the Original Story of Christmas and a skit of "The Night Before Christmas."

The Halloween Festival was supported by every one. There were costumes, fortune tellers and the jailhouse.

Rotoract's Derby Day was a new, successful time of laughter and games for students and their little brothers and sisters.

Gail knocks 'em dead

Bob escorts Clevetta during Derby Day

LeRoy cheers them on

John volunteers to eat the pie

Campus Events

Upsilon's annual event — Sadie Hawkins no one would want to miss. The excitement of seeing the guys run even if they didn't want to.

Chi's annual Chi Cruise was a sell out. No one wanted to miss the relaxation of an evening cruise.

Away we go

Paul Conn spoke at Chi Cruise.

Ken and Melody enjoying the view

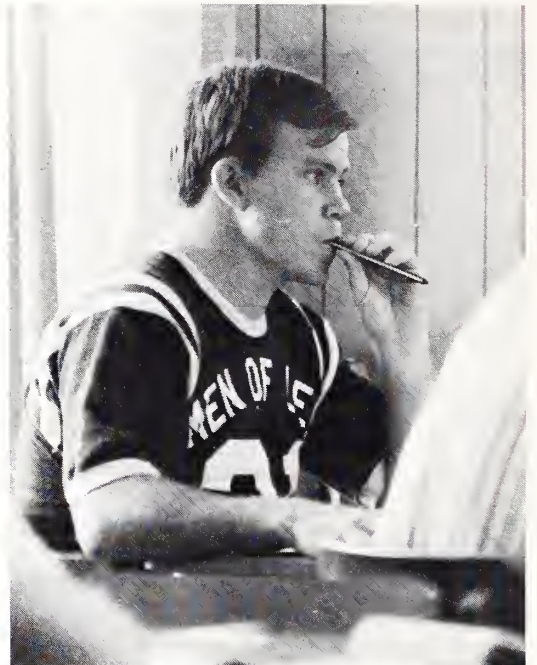

A quiet time on deck.

Stories face's tell.

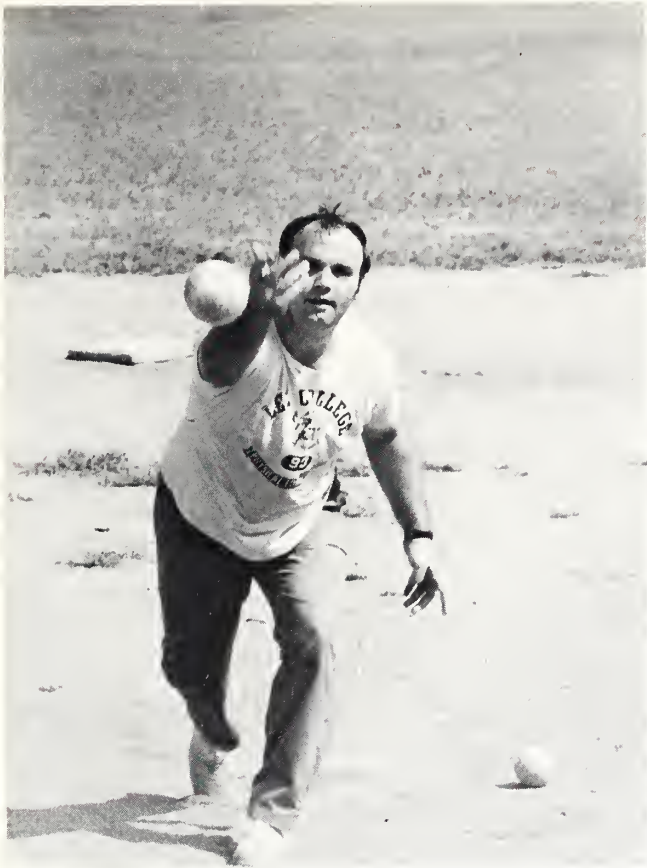

Phyllis just can't believe she did it wrong.

James says, I really don't understand.

Don't give up now Gary.

A Bob Gibson I am not, well, maybe just a little says Roland.

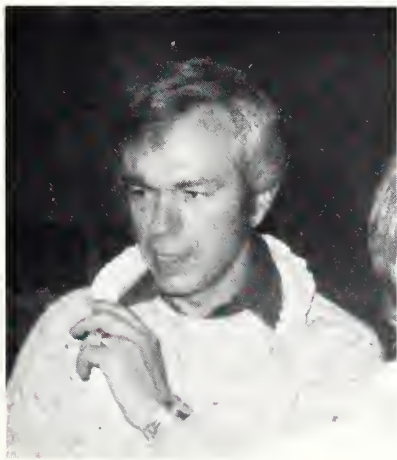

If it wasn't for my speed, I would've only got a triple.

Ron makes it harder than it looks.

... And More Faces

C. L. says but if you use my idea.

And More Faces.

Dr. Beaty enjoys rapping with students in cafeteria.

Cindy Osborne finds the cafeteria an escape from loneliness.

Chess has become something at Lee.

LaVerne plans her day.

Happiness is . . .

. . . a quiet moment.

. . . finishing classes.

. . . being together.

There are many times that happiness is. Times that can't be shown in a book but will always be remembered — times in a “long day” and times of special events. Times at Lee College.

Hard Work Produced

The 1972 Parade Of Favorites

The 1972 Parade of Favorites was accomplished by a lot of tired bodies whose one aim was the production of a pageant to beat all pageants. The Parade being the highpoint of the social year at the college, spurred them on.

Each girl with the cooperation of her sponsoring organization, her escort, and admirers was responsible for her own props and her talent. The girls in turn were offered management by the pageant director, Jan Mullinax, who with the cooperation of the stage crew and the sound and lighting personnel were responsible for the management of the whole night's activities.

The work of many people was combined to produce a one night spectacular which was the result of many months planning, and a week of sleepless nights.

Alpha Gamma Chi

For the men of the Burgundy and Gray this has been a most exciting and eventful year. The year began with the selection of Miss Joan Davis as the sweetheart of Alpha Gamma Chi. Then, in keeping with tradition, Chi hosted its annual moonlight cruise down the Tennessee River for the newcomers to the Lee campus.

Homecoming brought forth a burst of activities and all night work marathons for the Chi guys which culminated in Chi's homecoming project of two giant archways leading to the Lee Campus.

The second semester saw Chi introducing a new event to the Lee campus, donkey basketball. The event, held in the Lee gym, was a basketball game played entirely on the backs of live donkeys. The evening was capped off by a Chi victory over the Lee Faculty.

The real highlight of the semester, however, was the presence of Andre Crouch and the Disciples and the Imperials in a joint concert in April. These two groups were co-sponsored on the Lee campus by the ladies of Delta Zeta Tau and the men of Alpha Gamma Chi.

It was been a very busy year. But, it has proven to be one of great success and enjoyment for the men of Alpha Gamma Chi.

Upsilon Xi is a campus social service organization stressing academic excellence and Christian perfection. The club is celebrating its tenth year of activity and hopes to continue and even supersede the endeavors of past years including "Sadie Hawkins," "Musical Pomposity," "Reflections," and other projects. This year has been a year of change and reorganization for Upsilon but it has been constructive, beneficial change proven by success, greater unity, and added responsibility. The newly added members contributed enthusiasm and respect; the Senior members experience and loyalty. These are successful ingredients, and goes to say that names and faces may change, but the ideals of Upsilon Xi remain the same.

Sigma Nu Sigma

An old-fashioned ice cream social in honor of the freshman girls began the 1971-1972 year for Sigma. Activities such as pancake breakfasts, the Little Brother-Little Sister, Thanksgiving banquet, Rotoracts' Duby Day (they won first place!) and the Christmas banquet kept the girls busy. The Fashion Emphasis Week was a highlight of the year for the women of Sigma Nu Sigma and for the campus.

A traditional welcome party for freshmen women kicked off activities for Delta Zeta Tau, operating under the leadership of Karen Mundy, President. A unique party featuring psychological experiments and socio drama highlighted first semester activities, followed by a Christmas program for campus residents and their little brothers and sisters. DZT members also hosted alumni at a reception and a tea. During second semester, the group joined forces with Alpha Gamma Chi in bringing The Imperials and Andre Crouch and the Disciples to campus for a concert. They also co-sponsored a campus-wide Womens Day, helped in campus clean up, and did work among the underprivileged in the Cleveland area. Their major social event was a formal Valentine banquet held in Chattanooga.

Mitchell Maloney was actively involved with the functions of Delta Zeta Tau, serving as the group's beau.

Phi Delta Omicron

Pi Delta Omicron is the honor society for students in Lee's religion division who maintain a minimum of a 3.0 overall grade point average. Monthly meetings containing business, discussions, and special speeches are a time of sharing mentally, socially, and spiritually among the members.

This society exists not only for the purpose of developing Christian character through the promotion of scholarship, but also for the cultivation of responsibility, and for the fosterage of spiritual fellowship.

Pi Delta Omicron endeavors to aid its constituency in the following manner: it shall encourage the pastor to lead his flock with the staff of righteousness; the teacher to hold high the torch of knowledge for the enlightenment of his pupils; the steward to give of his best in the promotion of God's kingdom, with the Bible as his guide.

Alpha Chi

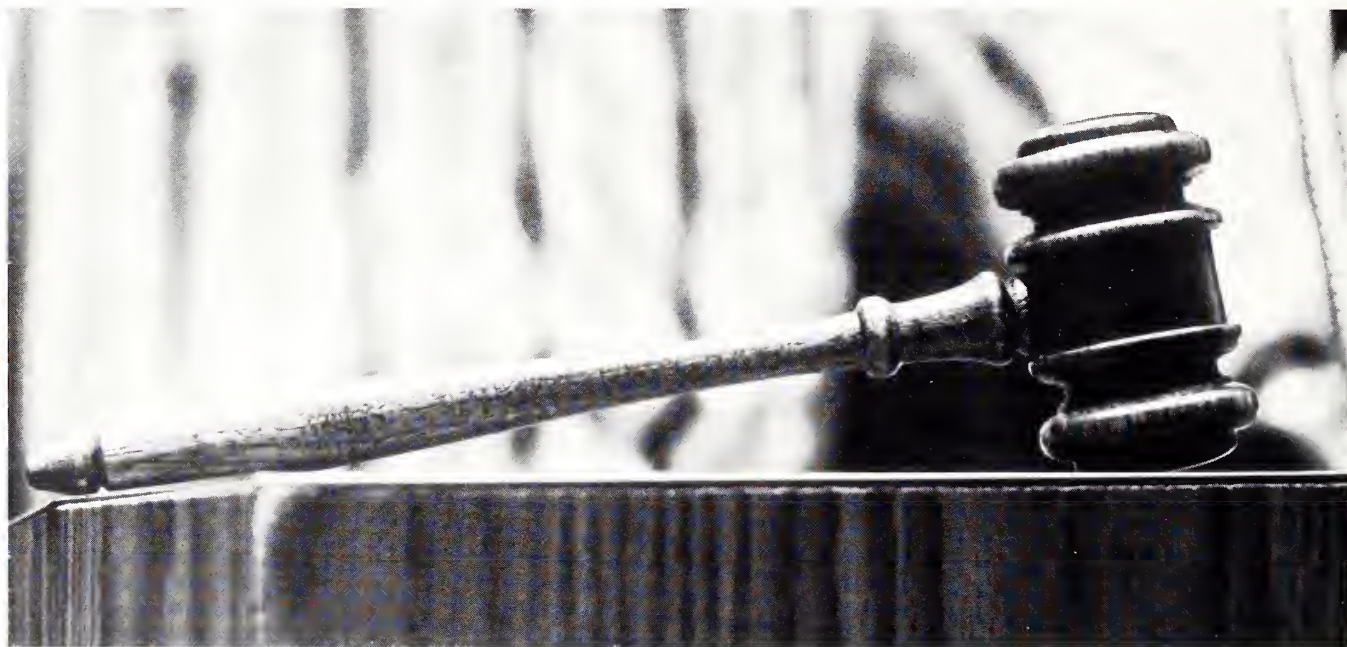

The officers of Alpha Chi feel at home in the library.

Formed in the waning days of last year's spring term, Alpha Chi moved into a recognizable position among the honor groups on campus.

The club, an organization of academically achieved individuals among the liberal arts, adopted a uniform dress, purchased distinguishing pins, and held induction ceremonies in chapel. Composed solely of juniors and seniors, the organization sought to instill in the underclassmen a desire to achieve academic prominence.

Circle K

The members of Circle K under the able leadership of Wayne Miller have established their organization as an active service club on campus. Their efforts to benefit the campus and community are well known and appreciated. Circle K was active in sponsoring the first Lee College blood drive and have now made it an annual event on their calendar.

The members of Circle K proudly chose Debbie Elliot to represent them in the annual Parade of Favorites.

Rotoract

Rotoract was chartered in April of 1970 and has established itself as a very devoted, active, and necessary club of Lee College. The men of Rotoract assisted in the local March of Dimes drive again this year. In addition they sponsored a Derby Day for The Big Brother Big Sister program which was a hit of the year. Fun and games for every age started what Lee College hopes will be an annual event.

The men of Rotoract proudly selected lovely Carolyn Jones as the club sweetheart.

A new type of racing was one event of Derby Day.

Come on Mitchell, just one more bite!

Cleve racing daringly for the finish line!

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

Active participation in the Democratic system by backing the party of one's choice is the purpose of the Lee College chapter of the Young Republicans. The campaigning of the YR's was instrumental in the strong showing made by the Republican Party in the 1970 Tennessee elections.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

To gain a greater insight into the Democratic party is the aim of the YD's. The Young Democrats actively participated in the 1970 elections by assisting at banquets and rallies, and campaigning for their candidates.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

A very active, but many times behind the scenes group is the Ministerial Association. They have been the initiators of Bible reading chains and prayer chains prior to our convocations, which helped prepare the student body for this time of spiritual fulfillment. Chapel services and prayer meetings sponsored by these ministers have enriched the lives of many students. Each member's dedication to his ministry added much to the club and the campus.

A Christmas Banquet was provided for the Ministerial Club members.

The members relax and entertainment is provided within the club.

Singing traditional Christmas Carols made the banquet complete.

VINDAGUA

The 1972 Vindagua was beset with a number of problems. A small staff, deadlines which were stretched to the breaking point, and technical hangups all combined to make the book an example of persistence for those detractors that said it couldn't be done.

Though working with a limited size staff the yearbook employed the hard work of such people as Phyllis Lane, business manager; Jan Green, organizations editor; Joan Davis, features editor; and B. J. Golden, class editor to make the book become a reality.

Class

You're a Frosh and you don't like the idea. What do you do about it? Nothing. You just exist and hope that next year will come.

It seems as though there is a typical freshman image that does not change from year to year or from campus to campus. Defined, a freshman is unsteady in the presence of his superior upperclassmen friends. He is a nice guy that hasn't yet learned to stand out on his own. He's waiting for the right moment; the right time to bloom. Yes, that's a freshman. At least that is what everyone thinks. If they are a sophomore, junior, or senior.

Involvement in the ways of Lee started early for the new students with Frosh Week sponsored by the Senior Class and in which the new class was entertained, laughed with and about, and defeated soundly in the Senior-Frosh football classic

Glenn Herring, Freshman Class president, provided initiative and leadership which culminated in the completion of the class's prayer room project.

But the Rains Did Not End the Fun.

The Sophomore Class under the direction of President Van Watkins used the year 1971-'72 for rebuilding and regrouping their class for fund raising projects and internal study of their constitution and procedures.

Plans and ideas discussed during the year included a study of proposals to purchase drapes for the college cafeteria, presentation of a revised class constitution, a study of procedures used by the class for carrying out projects, and the initiation of student council reports in each class meeting.

Watkins termed these reports as necessary if the class was to understand the function of the Student Government Association and the performance of its elected representatives. A drive for class unity was also launched by Watkins designed he said to lay the groundwork for future class work.

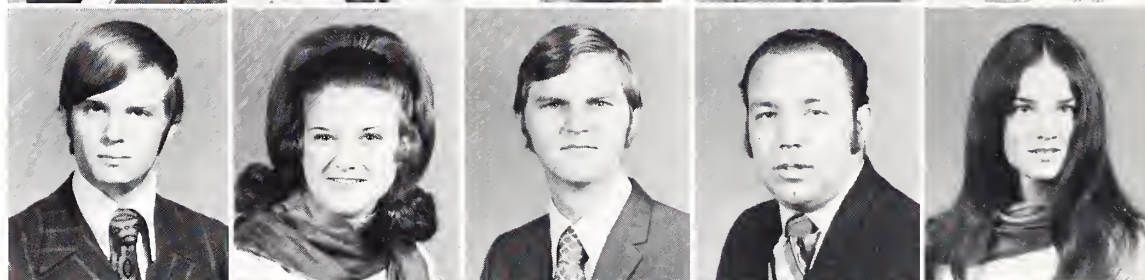

Class President Van Watkins set the stage for future class projects with planning and constitutional revision.

The Questions Are Real;
The Answers Sometimes Far Away

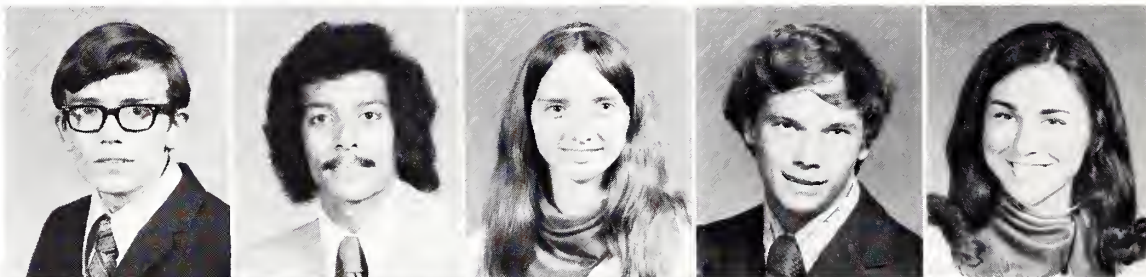

Key words of description for the Junior Class were "purpose, spirit, and drive." The class started the year with a desire to accomplish something. Out of that desire came a plan to raise sufficient funds to build a chapel in the Village of Worawora of Ghana, Africa.

Consisting of students who reflect a contemporary definition of responsibility, the class coupled their serious concern for others with the yen for the lighter side of life, demonstrated in point by the Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae awards won by Ron Jeffcoat and Brenda Taylor. Also as is traditional, the class sponsored the "House of Horrors" at the annual Halloween Festival.

Class President, Dean Cleghorn, was also the editor of the Clarion.

The annual Sadie Hawkins Day gave participants a run for their money.

For the Class of 1972 the year marked an end to a four year trip of discovery mixed with a bit of growing up, sometimes called maturation, and a certain amount of trivia.

The Seniors of 1972 suddenly learned on the eve of their graduation that four years had elapsed during which they had matured beyond belief. No amount of deduction by the cynics of the campus could deny that.

The class, though to a great degree inactive due to the large number of married and otherwise involved students, did manage a various number of projects. Frosh week in the fall, a film program for disadvantaged children, fall and spring chapel services, and a mug sale led up to the traditional Senior banquet.

Class President, Don Johnson, led the class toward unity.

Sixty-two years ago, R. M. Evans, a retired Methodist preacher who had received the baptism of the Holy Spirit and joined the Church of God, drove his wagon 300 miles to Miami, sold the mules to buy passage, and sailed to Nassau, Bahamas, to become the first foreign missionary of the Church of God.

God still calls men and women into His work of evangelizing the world. And men today, like Evans, are still willing to give up everything to go for God.

God wants you as part of his missions enterprise—either to go or to send.

Church of God World Missions congratulates you upon the completion of your year at Lee and looks forward to your working with us as we take the gospel into all the world.

For the second successive year it has been my privilege to have served as editor of the college's yearbook, the Vindagua. Unlike last year however this production has been more hurried and as a result shows it. For that I must accept complete responsibility.

As I leave Lee this year I cannot help but look back over the shelves of Vindagua's which have recorded her progress. This yearbook has been the recorder of its progress, its failings and just the everyday actions of its people.

Several people contributed a large amount of their time to the construction of this book. I would like to thank B. J. Golden for her work, Phyllis Lane for her devoted service, Jan Green for her concern, Dean Cleghorn for his friendship and a person better known to me as J.J., without whom the production of the 1972 Vindagua would not have been possible.

Don W. Johnson

When you are old and grey and full of sleep,
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read, and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep;
How many loved your moments of glad grace,
And loved your beauty with love false or true,
But one man loved the pilgrim soul in you,
And loved the sorrows of your changing face;
And bending down beside the glowing bars,
Murmur, a little sadly, how Love fled
And paced upon the mountains overhead
And hid his face amid a crowd of stars.
